the qmin approach.

the qmin approach.

Each client is unique, and we see ourselves as being in the people business rather than the sales business. That is to say we focus on building long term relationships so that clients stay with us as they grow their business. Our job is to interpret your needs and objectives, and to design, deliver and support class leading business solutions.

Our staff are our most valuable asset and we treat them as such. Many of our team have been with Leaf for a long time meaning clients receive a consistently exceptional service and build long standing relationships with IT professionals that love what they do, which includes:

analysis.

With your help, we conduct an in depth business needs analysis to ensure that we propose and deliver the outcomes you need.

reporting.

Tailored monthly reports identify trends and can highlight developing issues so they can be investigated and addressed. This can help keep costs down and provide valuable insight into performance.

3

consultancy.

Our client base is testimony to the quality of our consulting capability and technical knowledge.

4

design.

Once your business needs have been identified and agreed, our senior architects build your solution using proven technologies that work.

implementation.

Our implementations are meticulously planned and deployed, and our 5 years of experience ensures a seamless transition.

management.

At all times clients have access to their account manager, and if need be, every level of management within Qmin.

monthly reviews.

The monthly review meeting with your Customer Experience Manager is the forum for discussing solution performance, evolving needs and any other issues arising. We pride ourselves on open, transparent communication with our clients

Results driven IT services

The screenshot shows a Rightmove real estate listing for a property for sale in Bury, Greater Manchester. The listing includes search filters for 'Search radius' (Within 3 miles), 'Price range (£)' (200,000 - 250,000), and 'No. of bedrooms' (3 - 4). The listing is by Pearson Ferrier, with Kristian Allan as the agent.

The advertisement for 'PROVE BRUNGE' features a vibrant image of a brunch menu with the text 'PROVE BRUNGE' overlaid. Below the image, it promotes a 'Bottomless brunch in Hertford' available on weekends for £14.95. The ad includes a 'BOOK A TABLE' button and a small image of the restaurant's exterior.

The advertisement for Fagan & Whalley features a large image of a warehouse interior with a forklift operator. Below the image, it highlights 'The Departments of Fagan & Whalley - A look into our Warehousing Operations'. The ad also includes a 'Take a look' button and a 'Here info' button, along with contact information for the company.
